

CT Wrestling Live Top 10 teams this week!

By CTliveWrestling - Posted Wed January 11, 2012 at 16:22

Danbury has cemented their hold on the top spot in the rankings, grabbing all first place votes after taking second in the tremendously tough Redskin Invitational in Maine. Daniel Hand looks to have made a similar statement for the number 2 position after knocking off #3 New Milford in the finals of the Trumbull duals. While both teams are eyeing the number 1 spot, they will have to battle it out with one another (as well as Fairfield Ware and Farmington) at the Class L tournament. Ledyard remains at number 4, they finally showed their depth can shine in a tournament as well as dual setting, winning the Bristol Central tournament. Coming in at #5 is Xavier, a dangerous team that finished with wins over 3 out of state teams at a meet in Easton, PA. Once the Falcons get back in state they will be looking for some big wins to move back into the discussion for the top spot.

Making big waves at #6 is Trumbull. They had a fantastic weekend, finishing third at their own duals. Trumbull lost on criteria to #3 New Milford and then handily defeated a then top 10 Glastonbury team in the 3rd place bout. Led by Ben Anderon at 138, Trumbull brings a talented squad that looks to be making a push as the season progresses. Fairfield Warde sits at #7 this week after winning their own tournament while Farmington is our #8 team after finishing behind Ledyard at the Bristol Central tournament. Windham comes in at #9, the Whippets won their own dual tournament this week with a win over a solid Waterford team. Rounding out the top 10 is Southington. They were in MA this weekend for a top-notch dual tournament where they certainly took their lumps but came away with a win over the always tough Springfield Central.

Congratulations to all the top 10 teams, and good luck to all the teams vying for a spot. As Trumbull showed us this week, teams that work hard and begin to put up huge wins will earn a place in the discussion as one of the best in the state.