

Choice on the Mat

The Hatters again garnered all 15 first-place votes in the latest weekly high school coaches wrestling poll.

By Tim Jensen \(Patch Staff\) - January 10, 2017 7:25 am ET |

DANBURY, CT — It's beginning to sound like a broken record, but Danbury once again captured all 15 first-place votes to retain its unanimous position atop the weekly Connecticut high school coaches wrestling poll.

The Hatters travel to Westhill Wednesday, then will compete in the Eastern States Tournament in Loch Sheldrake, NY Friday.

Here are the top 10 teams in the latest rankings.

1. Danbury
2. New Milford
3. New Canaan
4. Newtown
5. Fairfield Warde
6. Trumbull
7. Xavier
7. Southington
9. Windham
10. Ledyard

Donald Trump, At Press Conference, Blasts 'Fake News' And Says He Won't Divest From Business

He seemed to admit that Russian President Vladimir Putin was behind the hacking of the Democratic National Committee.

Also receiving votes: Ellis Tech, Platt, Foran, Killingly, New Fairfield, Montville, Guilford, Shelton, Daniel Hand, Westhill, Masuk, East Haven and Fairfield Ludlowe.

Coaches voting: Matt Boissoneault (Bristol Central); Ricky Shook (Danbury); Rafael Calixto (Ellis Tech); Eric Misko (Farmington); Matt Schoonmaker (Jonathan Law); Steve Bilheimer (Ledyard); Paul Gallo (New Canaan); Chris Piel (New Milford); Chris Bray (Newtown); Brian McCarty (Platt); Derek Dion (Southington); Charlie Anderson (Trumbull); Chris Gamble (Waterford); Pat Risley (Windham); Mike Cunningham (Xavier).

Patch file photo